CRITERION I – CURRICULAR ASPECTS

1.1 – Curriculum Planning and Implementation

1.1.1 – Institution has the mechanism for well planned curriculum delivery and documentation. Explain in 500 words

The Heads of the Departments inspects the work done on a weekly basis and the Head of the Institution supervises the work dairy at any given point of time and it is binding on the teacher to produce up to date dairy for inspection when called for. It is mandatory to produce up to date the dairies available for inspection when required by the inspecting officers of the Directorate of Collegiate Education. The work dairy regarding the curriculum delivery contains details of tutorial Classes, Attendance, Time Table, Test Marks, Assignments, Test and Exam Results. The details of the leave availed by the lecturers and finally the completion of the syllabus is ascertained by the work done certificate provided to the Principal. The lecturer's involvement in the college activities which form the bedrock for the all round development of the students is also found in the work dairy. The absenteeism of the lecturers is compensated in the form of extra classes. Each class is monitored by the class academic advisors who maintained a record of their internal assessment exam and semester exam and keep the parents informed about the results and progress of their wards. The class academic advisor conduct historical/ industrial tours at the end of B.A, B.com, M.Com programmes. The Degree program are structured on the six semester basis during the three year degree programs which is a credit based program and 4 semester for Post Graduate Programme which is a choice based programme. There are 2 Internal Exams in the Semester on the basis of which internal assessment marks are awarded. The Internal Exams are mandatory and re examination will be conducted for the students who has absented themselves from the examination due to medical or any other valid reason. The subject of study include general studies, Inter disciplinary subjects, Gender Studies, Human Rights, Indian Constitution, Environmental Studies in addition to the 2 languages and prescribed optional subjects in the B.A, B.Com programs. Credit Based Semester Scheme for the UG programme carries certain number of credits. The credits denote the credence of a course and showcases the teaching, learning and evaluation approach namely the number of contact hours, the course contained, teaching methodology, learning expectations, maximum marks etc. in the proposed programme. One credit is equivalent to 50 marks in a semester. Therefore a three year Degree programme encompasses a maximum of Five thousand marks and hundred credits. The co-curricular and extra-curricular activities during the first four semester is evaluated as 50 marks for four semesters which is equivalent to two hundred marks and four credits. The Post Graduate M.Com course is a two year course of Four semesters wherein there are 22 to 26 credits per semester and entails a total of hundred credits. Hence the relative importance of subject of study and activities are quantified in terms of credit. One Choice based course of four credit is offered in the Third Semester which is either taught by the faculty within the college or outside the college.

Feedback Obtained

Effective feedback both positive negative opinion is very helpful for the growth of the institution. The feedback obtained from the students is used to make important improvisations. The institution regularly collects the feedback from two important stake holders' viz. students and alumni. For students feedback on the teachers are chalked out by considering their conceptual clarity, the ability to handle subjects, strengths and weaknesses of the teachers. The feedback represents the expectations of the students. The feedback form consists of questions on the teachers, infrastructure facilities, student support services, leadership programs, institutional values and governance. At the end of the academic year, the students assess the teachers and the infrastructure, support services, leadership, etc. The feedback pertaining to syllabus is considered and the faculty conveys the mismatch between the academic and industry requirement to the university in the BOS meetings where timely alterations are made, to match the market demand. The internal evaluation system too is altered to make it student centric. Remedial classes are adjusted according to the convenience of the students, the support services viz. library and office timings are also altered to suit the convenience of the students. To enhance the skill and confidence level of the students, the leadership training programs and skill building workshops are conducted according to the demands of the students. In order to meet the demands of the students basic computer programming and advanced tally program are provided. For recreation facilities canteen services are improvised supplying variety of seasonal fresh fruit juices and variety of traditional cuisines. To enable students to have a clear mindset and positive thinking, personal counselling is conducted for the new entrants through trained personnel. The model question papers in each subject is provided so that there is a thorough revision of the subjects, and preparatory exams for the entire class is conducted with five different sets of question papers. In order to cater to the economically backward students and to prevent dropouts the payment of fees and examination fees is met by the teaching faculty. The alumni being the brand ambassadors of the institution are the linkage between the college and the outside world. The alumni fill the feedback form after leaving the college and render their comments and remarks regarding the learning process, infrastructure, support facilities of the college. Through this feedback, necessary changes to meet the market demand or employability are resorted to through the career guidance program. As the alumni are aware of the admission of economically backward sections, scholarships are provided by them to give relief to the financial commitments of such students. The shortage of building and infrastructure are catered by the timely financial help rendered by the alumni to negate the grievance of a moderate campus infrastructure. The alumni meet the job requirements of the students by organising guest lectures, workshops, seminars with the help of qualified trainers. To meet the practical aspect of the curriculum the alumni invite students to visit their factories and commercial establishments.

The mentoring system has been introduced to establish a better and effective student teacher relationship and to guide students in academic matters. It enables to create a better environment in the college whereby students can approach teachers for both educational and personal advice. The mentors make a commitment in a caring way, which involves taking part in the learning process side-by-side with the learner. The mentor chooses to plunge the learner right into change, provoking a different way of thinking, a change in identity or a re-ordering of values. Mentoring of students thus, is an essential feature to render equitable service to all students having varied background. Mentoring system encompasses 6 academic advisors or mentors who remain in regular contact with the IQAC coordinator. They recommend to the IQAC co-ordinator regarding need for counselling students. The details of students address, parents details, contact numbers, economic background are kept in record. The mentors take regular feedback from the class representatives regarding the problems faced by students and discuss the same with the Head Of the Department periodically. The mentors interact with parents, guardians of the students as and when necessary. Normally mentors have a fair idea of the performance, skill and aptitude of the students. Mentors take note of the absentees and report the same to the IQAC Co-ordinator/Principal. The parent teacher meetings enable to monitor the progress of the students. Feedback from various stake holders help to improve quality in the learning process. The mentors identify the strengths and weaknesses of the students. They provide guidance in selecting jobs and for higher education. They also provide knowledge to students regarding self-employment opportunities, entrepreneurship development courses. They guide students to excel the mentors motivates students to take- up article writing, present papers in national international seminars, community service, field work, industrial training which will ensure value addition and provide a competitive edge. Students who lose focus in academics are counselled and motivated. The mentors recognise slow learners and chalk out programs viz. conducting extra classes, conducting remedial coaching after the college hours and providing them coaching assistance through classmates and senior students. The mentors recognise the deserving students and provide financial support in the form of tuition fees, examination fees and medical treatment. The mentors also assist in the payment of the medical bills of the economically backward students. They visit the sick parents in the hospitals and provide some financial assistance to the deserving family. The mentors select students with learning disabilities namely lack of concentration and recommend them for counselling which is provided by the trained counsellors. The mentors also organise educational tours, inter-class cultural events in-order to break the monotony of the routine learning. It is the practice of Mentors to meet students individually or in groups. In isolated cases parents are called for counselling/special meetings with the Principal at the suggestion of the Mentor. If a student is identified as having weakness in particular subject, it is the duty of the Mentor to apprise the concerned subject teacher. .

7.1.7 – Initiatives taken by the institution to make the campus eco-friendly (at least five)

Rain water harvesting Solar panel Herbal garden Vermin compost unit Using LED light bulbs

7.2 – Best Practices

7.2.1 – Describe at least two institutional best practices

Best Practices 1. Title of the Practice: Empathy towards the community
 Objectives of the Practice 1. To sensitize students towards community service
 2. To inculcate values of concern, compassion and commitment 3. To equip students with organization and leadership skills 4. Reverence and tolerance to other religions and culture to instill national harmony and universal brotherhood. 5. Assimilating ideals of honesty, truthfulness, perseverance, hard work, sacrifice. The Context: Keeping in mind the above goals, the students in association with Lion's Club, Rotary Club, Mangalore Productivity Council, Sevabharathi, Sevashrama undertakes community service, exercise of franchise, problems of migrant/construction workers and need for basic literacy. The Practice: Students under the guidance of NSS/ NCC/ Women Cell / Community Development cell take up community service on Saturdays. The pressures of the semester scheme prevents active involvement of students during the week days. The vision and mission of the college of universal brotherhood enables us to commit ourselves to the development of the society at large. The practice involves visiting the differently challenged centers, old age homes, homes for the destitutes and conducting cleanliness drives, entertainment programmes, distribution of snacks, stationary. It involves planning, preparation, execution and evaluation. Evidence of Success: 1. The 'Swachh Bharath Abhiyan' influences the students to maintain cleanliness in the community and in the campus, reflecting a progressive change in attitude. 2. The street plays on organ donation at important junctions in the city rouses awareness regarding organ donation. 3. Walkathon / Rally / Jatha on the awareness of the preservation of the environment and the empowerment of women. 4. Civic awareness programs viz. filling potholes in the vicinity of the college, cleanliness drive in the bus shelter, market, de-weeding activities in the roadsides, unclogging drains in the vicinity of the college, cleanliness drive in the ancient monuments 5. Guest lectures / workshops on the ideals of great national personalities to mould the character and values through community service Problems Encountered and Resources Required: 1. The large number of students poses problems of coordination while implementing the task. 2. The financial resources are limited to implement the programmes at a larger scale. 3. The semester scheme hinders follow up drives due to the time constraint Notes : This practice needs to be addressed in other colleges so that the youth in their formative years understand and relate to the environment and society at large. Cleanliness drives among the student fraternity gets internalize to such an extent that they begin to adopt it in their homes and neighbourhood. Sharing , caring becomes a part of the psyche of the student community which in future would benefit the nation. Civic awareness becomes inculcated in the character of the young minds and the voluntary service mindset is nurtured. 1. Title of the practice - Revival of Yakshagana, the unique folk art of Karnataka Objective Of The Practice The Yakshagana is a distinct folk art of Karnataka,. This vigorous folk performance has been a medium of entertainment and dissemination of knowledge in Karnataka's coastal and rural areas since centuries past. Revival of Yakshagana, popular folk theatre form of Karnataka , is the need of the day. It is a unique harmony of musical tradition, eye-catching costumes, and authentic styles of dance, improvised gestures and acting with its extemporaneous dialogue appealing to a wide range of the community. It is a vibrant, vigorous living form of theatre art. This Indian folk theatre is richly laden with rudiments of Indian art and culture. Once upon a time these performances were the only sources of recreation for the people. However today, with no dearth of options for our entertainment, we don't depend on them for our enjoyment. Hence there is a need to raise a hue and cry about their retention and revival. If we don't preserve this individuality, we will very soon put an end to the diversity of India. The Context 1. This practice requires intensive hours of practice which is not possible in the semester scheme. 2. As limited number of students acquire Yakshagana skills, this hampers the formation of the Yakshagana troupe. 3. The local students are preferred during enrolment to the Yakshagana training course as the long hours of practice denies the students residing in far off places due to the unavailability of transportation facilities especially during the night. 4. The heavy head gear and elaborate costumes cause a burden to the tender framework or constitution especially of the girl students who although are interested in pursuing this folk art are forced to forgo the training after joining the course. 5. Absenteeism among the students also prevents continuity in the practice sessions and this course being a team oriented course suffers. 6. Students have to be trained adequately for high-pitched performances. Using the wrong technique can lead to vocal stress. For example, loudness of the voice should be raised only by using abdominal muscles, whereas regulating the pitch should be done through neck muscles. 7. The make-up in which lead is prominently used leads to lead poisoning which is a major hindrance in this art. The Practice The Yakshagana dance form is practiced regularly between 4.00 pm to 5.30 pm and during 1.30 pm to 3.30 pm on Saturdays in the college. The Yakshagana team encompasses a team of 15 students, including girl students. The artists are provided snacks by the IQAC. The male characters sometimes performed by the girl students while the female characters are performed by the male students. Yakshagana dance forms an compulsory part of the college annual entertainment program. A faculty member who has acquired a doctorate degree in Yakshagana is the principal trainer of the Yakshagana training course. He has participated abroad in various Yakshagana troupes which is evidence of the success rate of this dying art. The Yakshagana troupe of the college takes part in inter collegiate Yakshagana competitions held by the various institutions. The Yakshagana troupe of the college has bagged prizes in various competitions.

- Competition from modern dance forms especially eastern remix is a threat for the survival of this art. • Students are hesitant to enroll in the Yakshagana training course as it is classical eastern folk art and have passion for modern dance forms. • Students pursuing Yakshagana art have to endure long practice sessions and rehearsals. • Yakshagana artists suffer at a higher risk of developing voice problems. Their sound levels during narration and singing can go up to 100 decibels. • "Yakshagana singers are more prone to fatigue compared to other artists. • The time duration of this art form is more than one hour and this demands patience on the part of the audience. Evidence Of Success

1. Yakshagana training programme to the students has high success rates as the students are equipped with make-up application skill and recitation skills which could be utilized for other entertainment programs.
2. Due to the high pitch levels of Yakshagana artists they are successful as event managers, and as master of ceremonies.
3. The students trained in Yakshagana derive immense mythological knowledge which benefits them in their knowledge enhancement
4. The Yakshagana trained artists gain vast vocabulary and language skills.
5. The artists are invited to stage performances in local, national and international forums.
6. The students skilled in Yakshagana art can be gainfully employed in the local Yakshagana teams.
7. A few of our Yakshagana trained students find employment as make-up artists and render Yakshagana performances and are professional stage artists.
8. Students who have mastered this art can take it up in their doctoral studies.

Problems Encountered And Resources Required • The songs in Yakshagana are written according to specific raagas (melody that conforms to a set of notes) involving wide frequency and intensity ranges. Very often the scale demands high-pitched singing. Artists have to get trained to maintain vocal hygiene • Yakshagana performers wear plenty of facial make-up, vivid costumes, huge head gear and ornaments, which together give a superhero like appearance to the characters but which takes its toll on the performers. Female Yakshagana artists find acute stress due to the heavy costumes, head gear and ornaments and the high pitch voice modulation and the strenuous rhythmic dancing. • A good amplification system is necessary for Yakshagana to be effective. The facilities in most of the venues are not up to the mark. In such cases, the Bhagawata (lead singer) is forced to raise his voice beyond normal levels leading to vocal stress. Notes: The onus is on us to encourage such troupes and retain the traditional folk art, because such arts as Yakshagana and others have brought the coastal regions of Mangalore and Udupi their unique identity. This art has recognition at the national and the international levels and therefore the youth of India needs to undergo training in Yakshagana skills and display this ancient art form as ambassadors of the nation.
